The Iowa State University Women's Club 2007-2008 President is Sheryl Holden. The theme for the year is "The Joy of Sharing". There are many exciting programs throughout the year which celebrate Iowa and Iowa State University.

Fall Opener—September

“Sharing... Division Highlights and Fun” along with “A Taste of Iowa State” Reception

Monday, September 17 , 2007

1:30 p.m.– 3:30 p.m.

Northminster Presbyterian Church Social Hall

Arrangements:

Fall Opener Committee

Madonna Johnson

Kathy MacCrea

Mary Townsend

Carol Volker

Members attending the Fall Opener in September were greeted with cardinal and gold and treated to “A Taste of Iowa State.” Division Chairs gave short presentations, “Sharing . . . Division Highlights and Fun” prior to refreshments. Fall foliage and leaves decorated the tables along with ISU photos taken by Madonna Johnson. Refreshments included ISU and Cy sugar cookies, fruit kabobs, mini cherry tarts, peanuts, punch, and coffee. The committee planned for 150 guests and approximately 100 were served. Leftover food was donated to the Emergency Residence Shelter. ISU pictures taken by Madonna are available to use at the spring luncheon or for any division meetings.

Past Presidents Fall Trip—October

On October 2 at 7:30 a.m., 35 members and guests departed Ames for a wonderful adventure in Northeast Iowa. Bus transportation was provided by CIT. During the ride from Ames to Dyersville, everyone was treated to juice, coffee, and treats along with occasional door prizes, jokes, and other miscellaneous fun.

The first stop was at the Basilica of St. Francis Xavier in Dyersville where everyone was left breathless by the beautiful, recently restored, sanctuary. A brief bus trip up the street allowed everyone to catch their breath and enjoy the Dyer-Botsford Victorian House and Doll Museum where a fascinating collection of store memorabilia, an elegantly restored 1850 Victorian home, and an interesting collection of 1200 dolls awaited everyone.

The group made their way to Balltown via scenic roads (Hwys/roads 136, 3/52, Y13, and C63) for lunch at Breitbach's Country Dining. The incredible scenery that unfolded was without description but there is no question as to where Grant Wood's inspirations came from. Mike Breitbach greeted the group upon arrival at the restaurant and offered some wonderful humor before the group partook from the lunch buffet, sampled a little wine out back, and shopped at the feed store across the street—imagine all of this in a town of population 42 when everyone is home in bed at night!

The trip continued in a round-about-way south down the Great River Road to Dubuque where everyone spent a fast-passing 1.5 hours out of the rain at the National Mississippi River Museum & Aquarium learning about Mississippi River life. While traveling back to Ames, a final stop was made at Subway in Waterloo to pick up sandwiches and salads for a “dine as you ride” supper aboard the bus. The fun continued until the bus pulled into the K-Mart parking lot around 8:30 pm and everyone bid each other a fond goodbye and goodnight.

The trip was sponsored by the ISUWC Past Presidents. Committee members responsible for planning this trip included: Dianne Fales, Marlene Geiger, Barbara Gurganus, Phyllis Seim, and Ruth Thompson. Betty Keeney, Fern Parrish, and Gwen Stoecker also helped. The trip cost $65 and included transportation, entrance fees, refreshments, lunch, light supper, and gratuities.

IOWA STATE WOMEN'S CLUB INTERNATIONAL AND SENIOR AWARD SCHOLARSHIPS

Iowa State University Women's Club presents the following awards annually to ISU woman students recognizing their academic, personal, and community accomplishments.

Senior Award

Awarded to one or more worthy senior women of ISU who have been partially self-supporting, have maintained an acceptable but not necessarily top-ranking scholarship and have contributed to University and/or community life.

Meghan A. Trimble, Rock Island, Illinois

Pat Miller Memorial Award

Same criteria as the Senior Award.

Kristina Staley, Homer Glen, Illinois; Major—Chemical Engineering

International Award

Awarded to one or more deserving graduate or upper-class women of Iowa State University with good grades, who possess qualities of leadership, character and personality enabling them to foster international understanding and to interpret our American way of life to the people of their countries. This award is intended to be an honor more than a grant based on financial need.

Swarupa Bakre, Mumbai, Maharashtra, India; Major—MBA, Marketing

Gatenipa Chantem, Bangkok, Thailand; Major—Education

Rachna Kacholia, Pune, Maharashtra, India; Major—Accounting

Pan Na, Booji Shaanxi, China; Major—TESL/Applied Linguistics

Cynthia Yoon, Seoul, Korea; Major—Dietetics

Mrs. Glenn Murphy International Award

The International Award criteria apply to this award. However, this recipient is encouraged to return to her own country and work in her academic discipline. A student who has received another ISU Women's Club Award is not eligible for this award.

Keba Hulela, Mathangwane Village, Botswana; Major—Agricultural Education

She was born May 9, 1911, to Hans Jacob Hansen and Ellen Mary Peterson Hansen, who immigrated separately to central Iowa from Denmark and Sweden, respectively. She graduated from Ames High School in 1928 and received a bachelor's degree in home economics and child development from Iowa State College in 1933. She married Warren Benefield Boast Nov. 28, 1936, in Ames. Warren retired as head of the Iowa State University Electrical Engineering Department in 1975. Ruth and Warren had three sons, Richard, Charles and Tom.

She was a member of First United Methodist Church, Alpha Gamma Delta sorority, Mortar Board, ISU Faculty Women's Club and the Ames Hearth and Heather Club. She was an active supporter of the Danish Museum in Elkhorn, the Ames Historical Society and Youth and Shelter Services. She was a member of P.E.O. for 53 years and served as president of Chapter IV, Ames, from 1974 to 1976.

Everyone who knew Ruth remembers her love of life, her inclusiveness and her celebration of family and friends. She and Warren were avid world travelers and she continued to visit family into 2007. Through her entire life, she remained a vibrant and active participant in as many Ames activities as she could schedule, including being a fan of ISU women's basketball, activities with ISU friends, strolls through Reiman Gardens, travel and adventure films, ISU and Ames theater and music performances and Green Hills Retirement Community events and gatherings.

She is survived by two sons, Charles, of Champaign, Ill., and Tom, of Brooklyn, N.Y.; four grandchildren, Stokely, Saul, Sarah and Emma; six great-grandchildren; one niece; two nephews; two step-grandchildren; and four step-great-grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Warren; one son, Richard; and one brother, Robert.

Visitation will be from 5 to 7 p.m. Sunday, June 24, at Adams Funeral Home.

Memorial contributions may be directed to First United Methodist Church, the Ames Historical Society or the P.E.O. Educational Loan Fund.

Adams Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Verlene Mary (Dow) Mangels

August 28, 1928—
March 6, 2008

Verlene Mary (Dow) Mangels died Thursday, March 6, at Arbor Springs in West Des Moines. Services will be at 2 p.m. Monday, March 10, at St. John's Episcopal Church in Ames, with the Rev. Al Aiton officiating. Burial will be in Ames Municipal Cemetery.

A gathering of family and friends will be from 5 to 7 p.m. Sunday, March 9, at Grandon Funeral and Cremation Care, 414 Lincoln Way, in Ames.

Verlene Mary (Dow) Mangels was born Aug. 28, 1928, in Greeley. She was one of five children born to Huse and Esther Dow. The family moved to Iowa City in 1943. She graduated from Iowa City High School in May 1945 and began work at a local insurance agency, further education being out of the question due to her father's sudden death in 1944. She joined the staff of the Iowa City Chamber of Commerce in 1946 and worked there until 1953.

In 1953, she married 2nd Lt. Donald K. Mangels in Santa Maria, Calif. She had met Don in Iowa City while he was a student there. For the next 24 years, Verlene accompanied Don as he moved from base to base during his Air Force career. They lived in Japan, Washington, California, Arizona, Puerto Rico, New Mexico, Washington, D.C., Oklahoma and Colorado.

She was a full-time mother and homemaker, but was active in PTA, Officer's Wives Club and bridge groups. At several different locations, she was instrumental in organizing gourmet groups, including the one started by the Iowa State University Faculty Wives Club.

In 1974, she and her family moved to Ames, where her husband had been assigned commander of the Air Force ROTC program. In 1977, upon his retirement from active duty, the decision was made to make Ames their permanent home. She began work at a local travel agency. She retired in 1992, shortly before Don retired from a local bank.

Since making their home in Ames, Verlene and Don traveled extensively. They took cruises to the Baltic, Black Sea, Society Islands and the Mediterranean plus many trips to the Caribbean. They also extensively toured the continental United States and Canada.

She is survived by three children, Kristen Lee Mangels (Murray Buchheit), of Ames, Lisa Ann (Patrick) Volk, of Champaign, Ill., and Eric Donald (Julie) Mangels, of Ankeny; five grandchildren, Ashley, Austin, Nathan, Anthony and Alex; two sisters, Vivian Gilliland and Verona (Howard) Hessick; one brother, Verne (Joanne) Dow; sister-in-law, Arlene Dow; and numerous nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by her husband; her parents; an infant daughter; and one brother, Victor Robert Dow.

In lieu of flowers, memorials may be given to Iowa Hospice or to Verlene's family for the staff at Arbor Springs for the quality care they provided to her.

Grandon Funeral and Cremation Care is assisting the family.

She was assistant professor, head of home economics department at Hillsdale, Mich., college from 1943 to 1949, Morningside College in Sioux City from 1957 to 1959, resident teacher home economics at Annie Wittenmeyer Home State Home for Dependent Children in Davenport from 1953 to 1957, assistant professor supervisor, home economics student teaching, Minot, North Dakota State Teachers College from 1959 to 1962, and associate professor home economics teacher education at Stout State University in Menomonee, Wis., from 1963 until she retired to Ames to assist in the care of her parents so they could stay in their own home.

She volunteered at Brethren Service Commission in Elgin, Ill., summer 1944, and at Methodist Commission on World Peace in Chicago from 1945 to 1946. Her memberships were in American Wisconsin Home Economics Association, N.E.A., American Vocation Association, Association for Student Teaching, American Association of University Professors, Association of Wisconsin State University Faculties, Iowa State University Alumni Association, Wesleyan Service Guild, International Platform Association, Chi Delta Phi, Omicron Nu, Psi Chi, Delta Kappa Gamma, Sigma Kappa (life).

She authored "The Teaching of Home Economics to the Educable Mentally Retarded in Wisconsin" in 1967.

She married John Trumbower in 1974, in Ames.

She was an active member of Collegiate United Methodist Church and Solos, as well as Iowa State University Women's Club for many years. She was an avid reader, enjoyed music and playing the piano and attending many Heartland Senior Service programs.

She is survived by one sister, Dorothy J. Ames, of Watsonville, Calif., and one brother, Dr. Irving (Olive) Spratt, of Highland, Calif.

She was preceded in death by her parents; her husband; and two sisters, Marjorie Smelser and Frances Marie Beaton.

Memorials may be directed to Collegiate United Methodist Church, 2622 Lincoln Way, Ames, or to Heartland Senior Center, 205 S. Walnut Ave., Ames.

Stevens Memorial Chapel is assisting Bessie's family with arrangements.

Jauvanta Maurine Walker

November 28, 1926—
November 12, 2007

Jauvanta Maurine Walker, known to friends as Jav or Java, died Monday, Nov. 12, at Iowa Methodist Hospital in Des Moines. A time of remembrance will be at 2 p.m. Friday, Nov. 23, at the Northcrest Community Green Room in Ames. A reception will follow. A private service will be in Iowa State University Cemetery.

Jauvanta Maurine Walker was born Nov. 28, 1926, in Lubbock, Texas. She grew up near Rochester, N.Y., and in Athens, Ohio. Her parents were the late Col. William Morris Young and Margaret Freeley McWilliams Young. She had two sisters, Jean Brown, of Newport, R.I., and the late Jo Ellen Snyder, of Sierra Vista, Ariz. She had seven nieces and nephews in Arizona, California and Florida, and 15 grandnieces and grandnephews.

Her fond links with Ames and Iowa began in 1943 as an Iowa State student in mathematical statistics and creative writing. She received a bachelor's degree with top honors in 1947, and stayed on to work in ISU's Statistical Laboratory for more than 30 years, mainly as a technical writer and editor.

In 1948, she married Dr. Albert L. Walker, English professor and department chairman. They had a very close relationship until his death in 1980. Besides strengthening relationships among faculty members, their families and other departments, she was active in the Faculty Women's Club and other ISU groups. She and Albert enjoyed jazz music. They drove frequently to the southwest to learn about and collect materials about Native American arts and cultures.

After being widowed, she pursued this interest in Native Americans through further travel in the Southwest, Alaska and other places in the United States and abroad. Besides photography, she developed skills in art and design by completing a bachelor's degree in fine arts (1992, cum laude) and a master's in anthropology and related subjects (1995) at ISU. In her thesis, she pulled together years of observations about Native North American art and artists.

She also pursued interests in creative writing. Many of her poems appeared in "Lyrical Iowa." She published in other literary magazines. She received regional and national awards for writings, photographs and abstract paintings. Many of these creations reflected her sensitivity to native cultures, and love for storytelling and Southwest landscapes. She was an officer in the Iowa Poetry Association and National League of American Pen Women groups in Iowa.

Amid all this, she took time to relax with friends in bridge groups, courses for seniors at ISU and elsewhere, and learning tours abroad.

She approached everything that she did in a quiet, deliberate manner that included collecting vast amounts of background materials.

Stevens Memorial Chapel is in charge of arrangements.
